School Millage Renewal Defeat Means 'Cutbacks'

BY HENRY CANTIN

ROMULUS—Cutbacks or Not?

The answer to this all-important question will be decided by voters in the Romulus Community School District in a special school election April 6.

The school district's electorate will vote on two propositions.

They are being asked by the school board to approve a nine mills renewal for a five year period for school operations. This millage expired with the 1969 school tax collections.

A second proposition up for voter approval is a Bonding Proposition of $11,000,000 for urgently needed present and future building programs.

Robert L. McConeghy, school superintendent, said:

"Your school program must be operated within the school income. In case of insufficient income, the school program will have to be adopted to the available funds."

He stated that if the electorate fails to renew the nine mills on April 6, it is imperative that plans be prepared for school operations for the 1970-71 school year. The nine mills on the current tax rolls, at 93 percent collection, would mean $900,000 loss in operating funds.

The Board of Education has under consideration a number of deletions from the school program should the nine mill tax levy fail to pass, McConeghy disclosed.

The areas under consideration for cutback in the public schools include some services to St. Aloysius School.

McConeghy stated that the bond issue would increase the debt retirement levy for the district, however, the amount of the increase will depend upon the amount of bonds sold.

If the total $11,000,000 bond issue is sold there would be an increase of between five and six mills for debt depending upon the state equalized valuation upon the district, he added.

Other areas under study for cutback are the following:

● Place certain grades on one-half (1/2) day sessions.

● Eliminate following Special Services: all elementary art, all elementary general music, all elementary physical education and all elementary instrumental music.

● Eliminate the following Special Education programs: Homebound, Social Worker, Attendance Officer, Trainable and Physically Handicapped.

● Eliminate all cafeteria services

● Reduce junior and senior high instructional program to five (5) periods

Romulus Man Is Awarded Navy's Meritorious Medal

ROMULUS—Ronald E. Dick, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Dick, 34449 California St., was recently awarded the Secretary of the Navy's Meritorious Achievement Medal.

Dick, who was discharged from the Navy in August, 1969 after completing four years active duty, was presented his medal by LCDR J.L. Hinkle, commanding officer, U.S. Naval Reserve Training Center, Southfield, Mich.

Along with his meritorious ribbon and medal, Dick was also commended by John Chafee, Secretary of the Navy, in the following citation:

"The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting the Navy Achievement Medal to Ronald E. Dick, Yeoman Second Class, United States Navy for meritorious achievement while attached to and serving on USS PAUL REVERE (LPA-248) as the Ship's Secretary from Feb. 1 to August 5, 1969. Petty Officer Dick performed his demanding duties in an exemplary and highly professional manner. Displaying exceptional skill and initiative, he maintained his section at maximum operation efficiency, contributing significantly to the accomplishments of USS PAUL REVERE. Though filling a billet normally held by a far more senior man, he skillfully directed the efforts of his division, insuring outstanding work at all times despite increased tempo of operations. Petty Officer Dick's leadership, professionalism, and devotion to duty reflected great credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval service."

Spending over three years aboard the PAUL REVERE, the period (Feb. 1 to Aug. 5, 1969) mentioned in the above citation was the period Dick served during PAUL REVERE's recent deployment to the Western Pacific while operating with the U.S. Seventh Fleet.

Since his discharge from active duty, Ron has returned to classes at Eastern Michigan University where he is a sophomore.

Romulus High Inducts 28 Into Honor Society

ROMULUS—The National Honor Society of Romulus Senior High School inducted 28 new members at a candlelight initiation service held on last Wednesday evening.

Membership in National Honor Society is an honor held in high esteem for NHS is one of the most respected organizations in any high school.

In order to qualify for membership a candidate must have a "B" average and have shown qualities of leadership, service and character.

Those qualities were illustrated by speakers who welcomed the initiates into the Society.

Mistress of Ceremonies, Linda Baston, introduced the speakers following an invocation presented by Rev. Edward Raimor and a welcome from High School Principal Gerald Nault.

The first speaker, Glenn Hayes, spoke about Scholarship. Second to speak was Larry Sanders whose topic was Character.

Paula Cucchiara spoke third about the quality of Leadership and last was Cathy Wilson who spoke about Service.

All speakers charged the inductees with the responsibility of living up to the high ideals of the National Honor Society.

Miss Kay Coward performed two piano selections at the opening of the service and Miss Joyce Aske, accompanied by Miss Joyce Banker, sang two songs during an intermission between speakers.

Formally organized as "Citizens for Integrity and Quality in Romulus Government," the group held its first public meeting last week and more than 50 people turned out and expressed interest in supporting its efforts.

"The fact that he was there helped attract interest, I'm sure—but it was also heartening to note the enthusiasm of others who came, many of whom have not been particularly active in municipal affairs ordinarily!"

Pointing out that the Charter election will be Romulus' first non-partisan municipal election in many years (except for election of the Charter Commissioners), Hopson said he thought that had something to do with the interest.

Peace Corps Member Seeks Scout Uniforms

ROMULUS—A graduate of Romulus High School and of Michigan State University now serving with the Peace Corps in Padre Las Casas, Dominican Republic has issued an appeal for used Boy Scout uniforms especially Boy Scout shirts.

Making this unusual appeal is Harold Kranick, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kranick of 30790 Smith Rd.

Kranick wrote his parents that he wants to start a Boy Scout Troop in the Village of Padre Las Casas and has run into a difficulty because the Boy Scout Administration requires that each boy have a shirt at least even if they do not have an entire uniform. He reported that the average wage earned by the head of a family in the village is $1 per day and parents can (Continued on Page 3)

Romulus Fire Kills Boy, 5

ROMULUS—An apartment house fire in Romulus Township last Thursday claimed the life of a five-year-old boy.

The dead boy is Melvin Williams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Williams, of 11014 Whitehorn St. Three other persons, including two members of the Romulus Police Department were injured. All were treated at Wayne County General Hospital for smoke inhalation and exposure.

The fire of undetermined origin broke out at 12:10 a.m., March 19. Flames quickly spread throughout the two-story wood frame apartment house.

State Police from the Ypsilanti State Police Post are assisting the Romulus police in determining possible cause of the blaze.

Two Romulus patrolmen Frank Zoltowski and Robert Kahl, patrolling in their scout car discovered the fire. After calling the fire department, the two officers returned to the house and began to lead occupants to safety.

Lenten Season

(Editor's Note: The following is the seventh and final of a series of Lenten Sermons by area pastors and leading churchmen. This week's article was submitted by Rev. Joseph F. Kernosek, pastor of St. Aloysius Church of Romulus.)

By: Rev. Joseph F. Kernosek

On Palm Sunday, the disciples of Christ were singing, "Blessed is He who comes as King in the name of the Lord."

The Pharisees in the crowd said to Jesus: "Master rebuke Your disciples." But Jesus answered: "I tell you that if these keep silence, the very stones will cry out."

In God's timetable it was the moment for the world to hear that Christ was the King of the world, and that if the stubborn, blinded people would not recognize Him, then God would make the very rocks speak out and acknowledge Him.

HERE IS A PRAYER EACH ONE OF US CAN SAY EACH DAY:

Lord, help me to be kind to others as I want them to be kind to me. Keep me from talking too much, and from thinking I must say something on every subject. Keep me from trying to straighten out everybody's affairs. Make me thoughtful but not moody. Make me helpful but not interfering. Seal my lips on my aches and pains.

Help me to listen patiently to other peoples'

District Judge Airs Dangers Of Glue Sniffing

(Editor's Note: The following submitted by District Court Judge James B. Stone of the 34th District Court (Romulus) is the third of a series of articles on the problems of narcotics which has been in the forefront of current news reports.)

Before progressing into the most serious aspects of the problem of narcotics and drug abuse, I would like to pause here to mention a rather recent innovation in the "search for thrills" of our young society, glue sniffing.

I want to bring this practice to your attention to help explain why many retailers of airplane glue and model cement have come to require a note from parents before they will sell this seemingly harmless product to our children.

The practice of inhaling the fumes from airplane glue and other volatile hydrocarbons occurs almost entirely among young people from nine to 18 years of age seeking quick "thrills."

Considering only the undercurrent of excitement associated with the practice of glue-sniffing, they either choose to ignore or are uninformed about the many possible hazards-emotional and physical-that may result.

This problem has caused great concern among parents, physicians, educators and others committed to the welfare of youth.

The voluntary inhalation of fumes from model airplane glue as well as from gasoline, paint thinner, and lighter fluid is known as "glue-sniffing."

Model airplane glue and related compounds contain solvents such as alcohol, chloroform and toluene which, through their rapid evaporation, are readily inhaled.

Usually, the glue is squeezed onto a piece of cloth or into a bag from which the fumes are inhaled, although gasoline and paint thinner are often inhaled directly from tanks or cans. Regardless of the compound, inhalation is continued until the desired effects-ranging from mild intoxication to more acute disorientation-are achieved.

The immediate symptoms of glue-sniffing are similar to those associated with alcoholic intoxication, including: the loss of muscular coordination; slurred speech; blurred vision; a ringing in the ears; mild hallucinations; nausea; and depression. These intoxication-like effects occur for about 30 to 45 minutes, depending upon the amount inhaled.

A second stage, lasting an hour or more, usually follows. It is characterized by drowsiness, stupor, or, in some cases, unconsciousness. After recovery, the individual frequently can't remember what happened during this secondary stage.

Although physical dependence does not appear to result from glue-sniffing, psychological dependence on the induced sensations may develop a "tolerance" toward glue. At first, the user may only need a few "whiffs" to produce the desired sensations, but habitual users need to employ the contents of as many as five tubes of glue.

A very serious consequence of glue-sniffing is the effect-often toxic-of the inhaled fumes on the brain, kidneys, liver, and bone marrow. Loss of weight and low blood pressure also have been reported.

A very probable danger is the detrimental effects of the practice on emotional health. The users' dependence on the sensational effects of glue-sniffing may lead to loss of motivation which manifests itself in rejection of responsibility, producing "drop-outs" from family, school, and community life.

Supporting this idea are reports made by school authorities citing decline in the performance of known glue-sniffers in addition to an increase of law violations among this group. Use of other, more serious drugs might result as offenders seek means of obtaining more potent psychological effects as they grow older.

Inhalation is most frequent among young people from 10 to 15 years old who either are tempted-out of curiosity-or dared to try it. Although glue-sniffing is much more common among boys, some groups of girls have engaged in it.

Special Veterans Benefits Is Aim of 3 Mahalak Bills

ROMULUS-A package of bills introduced by State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D) Romulus would provide for a series of special benefits to veterans.

Mahalak is chairman of the House of Representatives Committee on Veterans' and Military Affairs. Part of the bills were asked by the Commanders Group, which represents major veterans' organizations in Michigan.

The Mahalak bills would:

*Provide for special auto license plates for seriously disabled veterans and other seriously handicapped persons.

The disabled veteran would have the letters "VET" imprinted on his registration plates, physically handicapped non-veterans the letters "PHY". "This courtesy, which would not cost the state a great amount of money," Mahalak said, "is one which we owe to seriously disabled veterans. In addition, it would be an aid to the handicapped person if he needed assistance in case of an emergency."

*Allow the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund to compile a graves registration list of all veteran burials in the State. "This would give those concerned with veterans affairs a valuable means of identification," explained Mahalak, "which is particularly needed since the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has deleted veteran designation on death certificates."

*Revise the composition of the Board of Managers of the Michigan Soldiers' Home. The old law requires that one of the members of the board be a representative of the United Spanish War Veterans.

The Mahalak bill would retain that seat on the seven-member board, but would require that two of the members be representatives of the American Legion, two representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, one a representative of the Disabled American Veterans and one a representative of the American Veterans of World War II.

The board members would be appointed by the Governor, based on recommendations submitted to him by the various veterans organizations. "This gives the major veterans' organization a voice which they do not now have in the management of the Soldiers' Home," Mahalak points out.

"I consider all bills major pieces of veterans' legislation," he added. "They are supported by veteran's organizations, who best understand the needs of veterans. I will work to see all of the bills enacted into law this year."

Gentz's Machine Is Ready

BY PEARL MORRIS

ROMULUS-The Whitman and Barnes plant, 40600 Plymouth Rd., Plymouth, has notified local residents by letter last week that the kidney machine which was purchased for the late Eva Gentz of Walnut St., Romulus, will be kept at Wayne County General Hospital in Eloise, Mich. for emergency use. This machine will have a plaque on it saying that it is in memory of Eva.

The hospital bed and other equipment which Eva used in her home with the kidney machine will be given to a needy young mother with whom Mrs. Gentz became acquainted while in the hospital. This woman also had a kidney machine donated to her and it is in her home.

Surplus coupons on hand will be used to take care of the final hospital bills, as soon as they are received by Eva's husband, the company said.

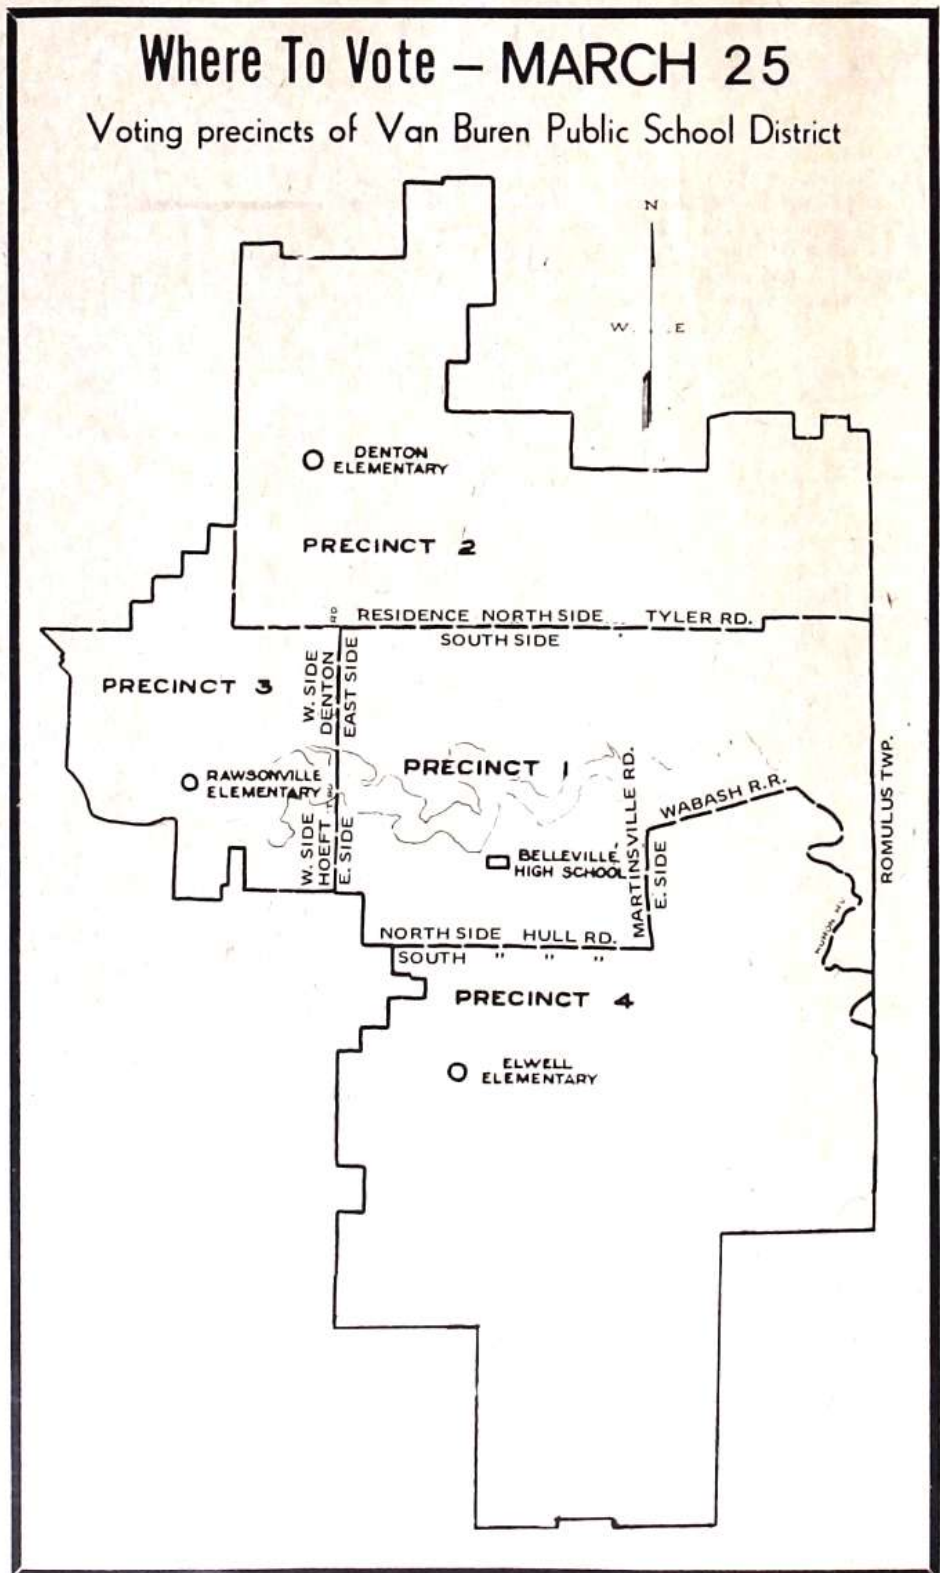

Whitman and Barnes was the company where Mrs. Gentz was employed prior to her illness (kidney failure). Employees of the company, along with other folks in Romulus and surrounding communities, purchased the kidney machine for Mrs. Gentz through donations and the collection of Betty Crocker coupons. Friends from all over the United States finally joined in the campaign to help Eva.

The highest bid amounted to $28,644, Alfred J. Perry, township clerk, reported.

The additional garage area will provide for a 10-bay station for department service vehicles that are now housed in separate quarters nearby.

Local Post Office Employees On Job

The nation's mail tie-up continued Monday with mail operations in the Belleville and Romulus postal areas practically at a standstill.

Postmaster Raymond O'Neil reported that no mail has arrived in Belleville since Saturday.

All out-of-town mail for both the Belleville and Romulus postal districts come from Detroit.

O'Neil stated that local mail received over the weekend was delivered. Postal staffs at both Romulus and Belleville are on the job.

He was instrumental in establishing a mission, St. Aloysius Church, in Romulus, and also had part in its founding as a parish.

In 1953, as the first parochial school in Belleville was being established, he received a promotion to the pastorate of St. Albertus Church, Detroit. His Eminence, the late Edward Cardinal Mooney, made the appointment and he served in that capacity for 15 years before retiring in 1968.

Father Guzicki attended St. Joseph's School, Detroit; St. Mary's High School and College at Orchard Lake, and Sts. Cyril and Methodius Seminary there. He was ordained in Feb., 1927, by Bishop Michael Gallagher and received his first assignment at the Orphanage at St. Joseph's for Boys in Jackson. He later served as assistant at St. Albertus and Our Lady Queen of Heaven in Detroit and in 1942 entered the U.S. Army.

He was treated as well as Officers Kenneth McRae and Robert Pidgeon at Wayne County General Hospital for smoke inhalation.

Plate Sales Behind

With the deadline for purchasing 1970 Michigan license plates but a few days off, Michigan finds itself nearly 900,000 plate sales behind a comparable date of a year ago.

"Even though the deadline for purchasing passenger license plates was extended a month this year," notes Secretary of State James M. Hare, "we still are plagued by those persons who 'wait until the last possible moment' to buy their plates."

So their Secretary of State, who is issuing this reminder for the last time because he is retiring at the end of this year, is predicting the "long lines of angry plate buyers" at the end of March.

Ford's Saline Plastics Plant To Be Expanded

Ford Motor Company has announced plans for a major expansion of its Saline Plastics Plant to handle increased production of plastic parts for automobiles.

Addition of 375,000 square feet will increase the plant's size by more than 40 per cent to 1,265,000 square feet, John McDougall, general manager of the Ford General Parts Division, announced.

It will be the third expansion of the plant since it began operating in the spring of 1966. The plant already has been described as the world's largest plastics molding facility under one roof.

The building project will be completed by April, 1971. It will be in addition to an 87,000 square-foot expansion now under way at the plant and scheduled for June completion.

"These expansions will provide us with additional manufacturing, shipping and storage space to keep pace with the plant's steadily increasing production capacity," McDougall said. "The plant's plastics production is expected to increase from 45 million pounds for the 1970 year to 75 million pounds for the 1972 model year."

"Among the reasons for expanding production are the increasing uses being found for plastics in automobiles as well as the advent of large presses which can mold bigger parts."

"The new manufacturing area will include several large injection molding presses ranging in size from 650 to 2,500 tons as well as chrome plating facilities for plastic exterior parts requiring a bright metal finish."

Some of the reasons for growing popularity of plastics in automobiles include lighter weight, durability, and resistance to corrosion. According to Ford engineers, about 97 pounds of plastics are being used in the average Ford car in 1970 compared to 84 pounds in 1968. This is expected to increase to 117 pounds by 1975.

New developments in the painting of plastics, such as Ford's new Electrocoat process, also will increase plastics usage.

The process, which makes use of electron beams to cure coatings on plastics, is being installed at the Saline plant and scheduled to go into production in June.

The largest plastic part currently produced at the plant is a front fender apron or underliner for the 1970 Lincoln Continental. The part weighs more than seven pounds and measures 43.5 by 26 by 22 inches. The apron for the right front fender includes a molded-in tray to hold the car battery.

Other parts produced at Saline include instrument clusters, grilles, splash shields, fan shrouds, taillight and parking lamp lenses, speedometer assemblies, dome lights, control knobs, and hundreds of other assorted parts. Materials being molded include acrylic, polypropylene, polyethylene, nylon, ABS, polysulfone.

troubles. Teach me that occasionally I may be mistaken. Help me to enjoy the blessings of life. You give us so many and I don't want to miss any of them. Dear God, help us all. Amen.

While the hands of the crowd were raised, cheering for His crucifixion, Christ had compassion on them. When the hands of the soldiers seized Him to nail Him to the cross He blessed them "Father forgive them..." On another occasion when asked how many times one should forgive, Christ answered "seventy times seven". We understand that in a Christian's life forgiveness is endless.

Who are His enemies? We are the enemies. It is also our fists which reach up. Our ways of selfishness and gratification are more comfortable than His perfect way of love. We are the enemies and of us He says "Father forgive them."

Do we have enemies. Perhaps not in the sense that Christ has them on that day. In our lifetime we may never encounter an active hostility against our person that would nail us to a cross. But how do we react to even less drastic situations? Are we willing to forgive the schoolboy who walks across our lawn?

What of the neighbor whose incinerator scorched our back fence, and who has not offered one cent for repair? Do these sound trivial? They are the little things of which every day is made. They are the "enemies" which we meet a thousand times a week. Can we raise our hand in blessing and forgiveness? Does the Christ of unlimited forgiveness truly live in us and through us speak to others?

How many times this week will you hand of blessing rise above the clenched fist?

A Welcome To Easter

Every holiday is accompanied by certain customs and traditions. Most of them are characterized by exhausting, frenetic activity.

Even Christmas, with its centuries-old religious connotation, leaves participants exhausted from holiday festivity.

Other holidays are marked by equally strenuous exhibitionism. Memorial Day is inextricably linked to the "Indianapolis 500"—a gruelling death-defying auto race. Labor Day and the Fourth of July have become occasions for a mass exodus to the seashore and mountains that make the trek of Hannibal and his elephants pitiful by comparison.

Perhaps because of its antiquity, as well as its meaning to Christians, there is one holiday that is commemorated in a different manner.

Easter, which this year is observed on March 29, is usually a quiet occasion. Children hunt their colorful Easter eggs in the cool dampness of a spring morning. Instead of heading for the mountains or the seashore, millions of Americans make a special effort to go to church on Easter Sunday.

Easter is a wholesome kind of holiday. It gives everyone an opportunity to recuperate in a small measure from the harassments of daily life. Its coming will be more than welcome.

MOON AND STARS ON A WINTER NIGHT

Majestically the moon rides high,
A-lighting up the winter sky,
And throwing shadows near and far;
And lo, we see a falling star.

We slow our pace and tread real slow
O'er the newly fallen snow,
We feast our eyes on the winter night,
And a million stars add their light.

Who is responsible for this light,
That's given to us this winter night?
The moon and stars are willing to share
The credit with God who put them there.

White Cane Week Set By Belleville Area Lions Club

BELLEVILLE—This year White Cane Week will be observed in Michigan from April 19 through April 25.

The Belleville Area Lions Club and over 500 other Lions Clubs throughout Michigan will team together during this one week which is set aside to acquaint the public with State Laws which have been adopted for the protection of the blind.

Local elementary schools, drivers license bureaus, and police departments will assist in this educational effort by distributing leaflets furnished by the Lions of Michigan in cooperation with our local Lions Club, Dick Bricks, Local White Cane Week Chairman, announced.

Co-Chairman for the Belleville area are William Bowles and Gerald Tedder and for the Romulus area, Paul Common is co-chairman.

The local observance of White Cane Week will be held on April 24-25.

The WHITE CANE calls for thoughtfulness, friendly appreciation and a personal responsibility for the safety of the individual carrying it. Thousands of White Canes have been furnished free of charge to blind people throughout the state. It is the aim and plan of the Lions to provide every blind person with a White Cane—the symbol of blindness—as a measure of protection for him.

State Legislation in 1936 included an ordinance granting the right of way to a person carrying a White Cane. The purpose of WHITE CANE WEEK is primarily an educational one—working toward that day when all our citizens will know and recognize the White Cane as the symbol of blindness and will give understanding and courteous assistance to bearers of the White Cane whenever such opportunities present themselves.

Township Commends Mrs. Klein

ROMULUS—A resolution commending Mrs. Florence Klein operator of Romulus' Helping Hand Thrift Shop, was unanimously approved by the township board March 17.

The township board also ordered that a week be designated as the "Helping Hand Thrift Shop Week."

Township officials also encouraged other civic organizations to assist financially, materially and voluntarily their services toward this project.

PTA Meet Attendance Is Small

ROMULUS—A small attendance at Hayti PTA meeting, held on March 16, disappointed concerned members who had attended to hear school board member, Davis Draper and Assistant Superintendent of Schools, William E. Jakad, discuss the April 6 millage renewal and bond election.

The PTA executive board had expressed concern that the community was not well enough informed concerning the renewal and its importance to the school district.

According to school board members, the fate of many important school programs awaits the outcome of the election.

Poem Is Written By Sixth Grader

BELLEVILLE—"Love With A Wag" is the title of a poem written by a member of the sixth grade at Edgemont Elementary School.

The young poet is Andrea Jean Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Price, of 130 S. Edgemont St. She is a member of Mrs. Mary Steeper's sixth grade class. Her poem follows:

LOVE WITH A WAG

Padding across the floor she came
On fluffy, tawny feet;
With shiny coal black eyes she came
To love me in her puppy way.
She charged across like one possessed
And licked behind my ears;
She had me where she wanted me:
Helpless in her puppy power.

Things Looking Brighter For Franklins Of Romulus

ROMULUS--When fire destroyed the home of the Charles Franklin family on Feb. 19, things looked pretty bleak for the 10 members. Everything they owned had been destroyed and four-year-old Trent had been critically burned.

"I just wish I could name them all," said Mrs. Franklin, "there have been so many who have helped," she said, "but I do want to express my sincere thanks and gratitude, the community was really behind us."

Along with her regular duties, Mrs. Franklin has been making a daily trip to University Hospital where young Trent is in the intensive care unit preparing for skin grafts, scheduled to begin this week.

Doctors say that Trent will require at least two grafting operations, the first, on Monday will involve his chest and upper arms.

With medical costs averaging $174 a day, the Franklins have been facing the responsibility of medical bills with uncertainty because of questions about medical insurance coverage. Franklin had changed jobs only a week prior to the fire. But Mrs. Franklin reported that they believe they were covered by the provisions of the policy from the previous employer.

Michigan Crippled Childrens Association is processing their application for assistance for the unpaid balance. So, the Charles Franklin family face the future with optimism and the sure knowledge that they live in a community that cares. Mrs. Franklin said, "They have all been marvelous, I just hope that when things get straightened out for us, that I will have the strength to do work in the community and somehow show them how much it meant."

Parents Celebrate Birthday

ROMULUS--A Birthday party was the highlight of the Concerned Parents Adult Association meeting held at the United Methodist Church last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mattie Hester, chairman, reported that more than 50 people attended the fourth "Get To Know Your Neighbor" night and shared a birthday celebration with Mrs. Ruthie Hughes.

A delicious buffet and dessert table had been provided by Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Mozella Jones, who was in charge of the kitchen.

There was the traditional singing of "Happy Birthday" and another song that asked "How Many Years," but Mrs. Hughes wasn't saying and no one really cared.

"We just had a wonderful time," said Mrs. Hester, "It's so nice to get together and talk."

The group meets each third Wednesday of the month at the church, 11190 Olive, Romulus.

Hospital's Volunteer Plan Set

ROMULUS--The Wayne County General Hospital Candy Stripe Volunteer program is scheduled to begin in June, according to Miss Loretta Bielecki, Educational Director for the hospital.

Because of the number of requests for admittance into the program, applications will not be accepted after April 27.

Forms for application can be obtained from the directors office and must be completed, accompanied by the parents written permission and a reference from either a teacher or counselor, written on the school letterhead.

Once accepted into the program, volunteers will be informed by letter as to date of orientation sessions.

Community Education Plan Is Council Topic

ROMULUS--Action on a proposal for a community education program, featuring a branch of the Wayne County Community College, which is to be presented to the Romulus Board of Education, was the major item of business of the Policy Advisory Council when it met on March 18.

A change in the name of the committee that developed the program was approved by the council and the committee will be known as Romulus Community Schools Continuing Education Advisory Committee.

Approval was also granted to the proposed community education program, tentatively planned to begin the fall of 1970, pending acceptance by the Romulus Board of Education.

The committee has been meeting with educators, consultants and community representatives developing a program consistent with the philosophy and goals of the school district.

Following the presentation by the committee and the endorsement from the council, a discussion ensued concerning the Romulus School millage and bond issues.

Gerald Budd, school board member, spoke of the curriculum changes being considered by the board should the electorate fail to pass the millage continuation.

A member expressed concern that the election was being conceded as "lost". Budd explained that contingency plans were necessary because of deadlines for teacher notification.

Mrs. Helen Ruark conducted the meeting in the absence of Council chairman, Mrs. Theora Cass.

Yankee Doodle was the most popular song of the American Revolution soldiers.

Amerman Is In Hospital

BELLEVILLE--Ellis A. Amerman, veteran member of Belleville's city council, is a patient in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Amerman entered the hospital about two weeks ago for treatment of a back injury. His back is presently in traction. He is in Room 316.

During her visit she presented their 15-year old daughter, Carol, (left) with a navy woolen poncho, especially designed and made for therapeutic uses. The garment, fashioned with a zipper in the shoulder seam and a buttoned collar, is lined with a navy, white and green print and is trimmed in navy fringe. Mrs. Fitch will also enter the poncho in a contest, "Therapeutic Fashion Designs", sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. It will be judged at the State level first and, should it win, will then be placed in national competition. Don't Let Misconceptions Mar Your Marriage

Whether wedding bells will soon peal for you, or you've already celebrated a score of anniversaries, your attitude toward money matters will greatly affect your chances of future happiness.

According to Dr. Carl F. Hawver, executive vice president of the National Consumer Finance Association, "Many American families would be a lot better off, economically and emotionally, if they forgot some of their false notions about money. Unfortunately, these financial 'old wives' tales' are heard so often that millions accept them as gospel truth."

How many of these popular fallacies do you believe?

1. It's not necessary for a wife to know exactly how much her husband earns. In fact, "nothing places more strain on a marriage than lack of complete honesty about money—where it comes from and where it goes." This is the consensus of experts like Dr. Hawver, Dr. James A. Peterson, a noted marriage counselor, and late Dr. Roy A. Burkhardt, a minister who also won fame for marital counseling. In their manual, Money and Your Marriage, these authorities state that financial planning should be a group enterprise involving husband, wife, and all children old enough to take part in family decisions.

2. A really good budget accounts for every penny. This widespread notion has caused countless budgeters to give up in disgust. Budgeting means deciding in advance how much of your income to spend on food, clothing and other expenses. It does not mean making an entry in a notebook every time you buy a pack of chewing gum! The simpler your method of handling money and keeping financial records, the longer you are likely to stick with your budget. Another point to remember is that a realistic budget does not outlaw splurges; it controls them. Give each family member an allowance he can spend as he likes—no questions asked.

3. Going into debt is sure to make a marriage unhappy. Actually, wise use of credit can help prevent the unhappiness that comes from having to do without things that make life easier and more pleasant. Credit, for example, can help a young couple furnish a home without waiting years to save all the necessary cash. Credit can also enable a family to meet an emergency without depleting its savings. It's the unthinking use of "easy credit" and unlicensed lenders that create unhappy situations—and these pitfalls can be avoided by seeking expert help. For example, state-licensed consumer finance companies not only make small loans, but give useful advice on how much credit you can afford and what kind of credit best suits your purposes.

4. First you pay all expenses; what's left over goes into the bank. This statement explains, in a nutshell why many families cannot save. After they take their vacation, buy a new coat, give that party, then they'll really be able to put money away—if nothing else comes up. A good money manager will avoid this trap. He (or she) builds savings right into the budget, deciding each year how much should be saved out of the weekly paycheck. This amount can vary from year to year, but once you make the decision, consider it a firm commitment.

5. If you use installment credit, you can really travel first class and buy the best of everything. Any reputable credit source will tell you that credit does not help you beat your budget; the monthly credit payments become part of your budget. Says the National Consumer Finance Association, representing some 13,000 small loan companies: "Credit is not a way of buying what you cannot afford...it may give you a more convenient way of timing the payments you make. But it does not produce extra money for you out of thin air." It's not always easy to separate financial fact from fancy—but if you do, you may save worry as well as money.

6. Most of your financial problems could be solved by a substantial raise. Unless you continued to live on your present scale, a big boost in income might only increase your headaches. Some bill collectors claim that a $10,000 income is a "danger sign"—many people think this salary puts them in the "executive" class and justifies more lavish spending. Officials of some colleges have recently noticed a rise in the number of scholarship applicants from families earning $15,000 or more. Despite—or maybe because of—their high incomes, these families found their living expenses too great to permit adequate savings.

MISS STOPA

Chris Stopa Active On CMU Campus

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?

In wintertime, people in houses with flame-type heating wake up mornings with that stuffed-up feeling. With hoarse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking.

Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat. You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat.

So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison-Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable, moisture-retaining electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and there'll be no obligation. And right now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade-in on your old heating system. Call him for an electric heat survey, or mail the coupon below.

He'll show you how to turn your desert into an oasis.

Honeymoon In Montreal

Karen Mach Is Spring Bride Of David Medley

The Willow Run Church of God was the setting Saturday, March 21, for the afternoon wedding of Karen Lee Mach and David Wayne Medley, both of Belleville.

Some 300 guests were assembled as the Rev. G. J. Chandler read the double ring nuptial rite which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mach of 45071 Venetian, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Medley of 45240 Paris Drive, Belleville.

FOR THE candlelight ceremony, Karen selected a silk organza creation sculptured in Venetian lace from neckline to hemline. Her full bishop sleeves were cuffed to the elbow and accented with lace while the neckline was softly rounded and edged in lace. Her toe-touching skirt terminated in a chapel train.

Her cathedral-length veil of silk illusion drifted from a Camelot cap frosted in Venetian lace. Completing her bridal finery was a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

SEASONAL CENTERPIECE-Give your youngsters the thrill of creating a 'thing of beauty' by assembling the low-cost items for this attractive basket egg tree. A little supervision will be needed but, generally, the kiddies can come up with some imaginative works of art which you can proudly use as your centerpiece for Easter.

Lacy 'Basket Egg Tree' Is Low Cost Fancy Fun

With a little help from Mom, youngsters can be kept busy fashioning a "Basket Egg Tree" that will make a lasting and lovely centerpiece or table decoration.

Because it's made from scraps and throw-aways, the cost of the project is very little. All it takes is eggshells, embroidery scraps, thread, transparent tape, glue, a branch, an empty fruit can, plaster and a basket or pot to set it in.

Start by saving eggshells. It's a good idea to break the eggs with a knife, near the smaller end. Use your finger to wash the inside of the eggshells with warm water, and let them dry thoroughly. Reinforce any shells with jagged or cracked edges on the inside with tape.

Before you decorate them, attach a hanger thread to the inside of each egg. Use transparent tape, preferably the nonshiny type (Scotch Magic Transparent) so that decorations can be easily glued on top of it. About nine inches of metallic thread makes a pretty hanger.

If your sewing box does not yield enough scraps of metallic braids, velvet ribbons, yarns and pieces of lace, you can buy remnants for pennies at the embroidery counter of any department store. These, together with glue, tape and imagination, will help your children turn the eggshells into beautiful little basket creations.

While the youngsters are busy decorating the shells, Mom can prepare the "tree." A branch from any tree or bush will do, but dry ones are best. Spray or brush on a flat white or pastel enamel. Mix about two pounds of patching plaster in a clean No. 2 1/2 can, and brace the tree in it until it hardens. Then the can can be set in any handy pot or basket, and garnished with paper hay, foil or clear wrap.

A final touch to the Basket Egg Tree is a nest made from a copper scrubbing pad, into which you place a tiny paper bird. To preserve your creation for next year, save an egg carton in which to pack the shells away.

The entire cost of the project is from $2 to $3, depending on what supplies you have on hand. Patching plaster is about 45 cents, non-shiny tape about 49 cents; white glue, about 29 cents, and a can of spray enamel, about 98 cents. If you choose to buy embroidery remnants, you can probably get all you need for less than a dollar.

Redecorate With Wall Decor

When you have that spring fever urge to redecorate your entire home, you might find that just a change in wall decor can give your home the "new look" it needs, suggests the Picture and Frame Institute.

Framed wall decor sets the mood of a room. Your home can take on a new look with some clever rearrangement of framed art you already own, along with a few well-placed additions.

Begin by taking down all your pictures and reevaluating them. Perhaps that print traditionally assigned to the bedroom would look interesting in a hallway, or the small etching in the living room would make a unique addition to the bathroom.

If you have a solitary picture hanging above your living-room sofa, consider adding two or three more framed pieces to form an eye-catching grouping. Or select a set of black-and-white etchings matted in a complementary color, to add new interest to your dining-area.

As her sister's maid of honor, Gina Lynn Mach donned a coral-shrimp frock of cotton dacron designed in the A-line mode with long, puffed sleeves. Her matching Camelot hat secured a waist-length veil and she carried a nosegay of green-tipped carnations tied with coral-shrimp ribbons.

Wearing identical ensembles were the four bridesmaids, Darlene Bruce, a college friend from Birmingham; Mrs. Danny Hood, a cousin from Inkster; Chris Stopa, and Carol Medley, the bridegroom's sister, both of Belleville.

Their nosegays were comprised of coral-shrimp carnations accented with green ribbon streamers.

THE BRIDEGRROOM asked Buel Moore of Ypsilanti to serve as best man. The corps of ushers included James and George Medley, brothers of the bridegroom; Rick Moore, and Jim Chandler, both of Ypsilanti.

At the reception which followed in the Warren Valley Country Club, Dearborn Heights, Mrs. Mach received in a silk coat-dress ensemble of celery green with matching accessories and a dark green cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Medley, the bridegroom's mother, chose a pink knit suit with black patent shoes and handbag. Her cymbidium orchids were in pale pink.

After a week-long honeymoon in Montreal, the newlyweds will make their home at 98 Wexford, Belleville.

Following her graduation from Belleville High School in 1967, Karen attended Albion College and Eastern Michigan University. She is currently employed as a teller at Manufacturers Bank of Detroit.

Dave, an art major, is presently in his junior year at E.M.U. Also a 1967 Belleville High alumnus, he is employed at the W. T. Grant store in Gault Village.

The concert was presented in three parts: the EMU 40-member chorus performed the first and last sections of the program, and the 80-member Belleville High School choir, directed by Keith Drayton, presented the second part.

The program included four songs by Brahms with harp and French horn accompaniments and "Winter Cantata" by Persicetti with flute and marimba accompaniments.

Freezer Tip

Marking meats and baked goods for your freezer? To avoid confusion, label each parcel carefully—naming the contents of the package, the weight (if it's meat), the date it was frozen and its approximate storage life. A porous point pen, such as Flair by Paper Mate, marks clearly and neatly. You could get completely organized with a color code—a red Flair pen marks meats and poultry items, blue labels pies and cakes. Black Flairs could designate breads and muffins and perhaps green porous point pens could be your home-packaged vegetables. It's a good way to freeze with ease.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made with Lorene Brulez at 753-9135.

In conjunction with the program, the guild will conduct a raffle on a cedar chest filled with linens which is currently on display at De Jack's Beauty Shop.

Second prize will be a stainless steel service for 12; third prize, a Bissell electric sweepmaster; fourth prize, a three-piece Corningware set; and fifth prize, a set of four seasons wall plaques.

Tickets are available from any guild member or by calling Tess Richardson, 753-4222. Winners will be drawn at the luncheon.

Meteorologist Addresses Edgemont's Third Graders

BELLEVILLE -- Edward Ryznar, a meteorologist at the University of Michigan, explained meteorology to members of the third grade class at Edgemont Elementary School. His appearance was part of the class unit on Observing March Weather.

During his visit, Ryznar discussed how meteorologists all over the country collect weather data and use this data to predict weather.

He brought with him a weather map to show the class how weather is different in particular parts of the United States. Along with two red weather balloons, he brought a radiosonde and an anemometer. These meteorological instruments are used in gathering weather information.

In classroom preparation for the unit, the children spent time observing and recording data about the weather.

The class learned that there are many things they could know about the weather by merely being observant.

Ryznar explained how the use of instruments refines weather observation. He also answered many questions which the class had about weathers.

Paul Ryznar, Ryznar's son and member of Mrs. Marian Batzer's class, helped school principal Sam LoPresto send up two red weather balloons as students from all the classes watched.

The balloons were filled with helium and will burst when they reach 100,000 feet. One of the balloons had a card addressed to Edgemont Elementary School and the class hopes that it will be sent back from where it is found.

Ryznar lives at 11535 Ryznar Dr., with his wife and three children who attend Edgemont School.

Cooperative Extension Pays Honor To Joseph Howard

BELLEVILLE -- The Extension staff, Michigan State University staff and entomology leaders in the 4-H Youth Program honored Joseph Howard, a 4-H leader of Wayne County and recently appointed to the Developmental Committee, branch of Entomology, NSU, on March 12.

Howard, who resides in the Belleville area, was presented with the 1970 "The Leader We Honor" Award.

Dr. Gordon Guyer, head of the Department of Entomology, MSU, made the presentation at the seventh annual "The Leader We Honor" Award held at Camp Kett Auditorium, Tustin, Mich.

In making the presentation, Dr. Guyer said:

"You Joseph Howard are the kind of person who becomes thoroughly and completely absorbed in everything that you undertake. You have devoted many of your God given talents to the betterment of our youth and to the improvement of existing 4-H programs throughout the state thus assuring continuity and advancement in apiculture.

"You, with your wife, Florence presently live in Belleville. You have been a 4-H leader for approximately eight years. During this period you have been the state Bee Inspector and have given freely of your valuable time so that our youths may benefit from your wise counsel.

"You and your wife Florence resided in Wayne County Fair Grounds from 1961 to 1968, and during this period your active and devoted team efforts formed a pattern for all to emulate.

"During the Beekeeping project years of 1964-65 you initiated a group project which included the construction of the necessary hives and supers and an extractor out of the raw lumber.

"You persevered in making entomology and beekeeping a very meaningful part of their learning experience. You worked many late hours either working directly with them or seeing to it that they received the best in training and experience that was in your power to provide."

Mahalak Introduces Bill On Explosives

ROMULUS -- State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D) Romulus has introduced legislation which would require a permit for the use of explosives for quarrying or mining operations.

The permit could not be issued unless the Commissioner is satisfied that adequate precautions have been taken to safeguard surrounding property from damage. Such conditions would have to be conditions of issuance of the permit.

"There is a definite need for this law," Mahalak said. "It is vital that people's property be protected from damage caused by the use of explosives."

Mahalak said he was prompted to introduce his bill because of complaints from residents of his district. "Powerful explosives are being used to blast rock at a quarry near the Village of Maybee," he said. "I have heard from people who live a half mile and as much as a mile away from the quarry - complaints of broken and cracked windows, cracked plaster and other damages."

Mahalak noted that explosives also are being used in the construction of the new nuclear power plant in Monroe County to blast the limestone base and break up the stone, and that further blasting will be required for the water intake line.

"I have heard complaints that people have felt the concussion from the explosions as much as two miles from the construction site," Mahalak reported. "I do not feel that this legislation would put an undue hardship on those who must use explosives in their work," he added, "but it does provide protections which the property owners do not now have."

Romulus GOP Club Begins 1970 Drive

ROMULUS--Precinct delegates, precinct workers and other party volunteers are needed as the Romulus Republican Club begins its drive for a successful campaign in the 1970 election. Ronald Hopson, club chairman, stated:

"The 1970 election year is crucial. The people elected to the state house and state senate, will draw the new geographic boundaries for the State Legislative seats and the United States Congressional Districts.

"They will be selecting specific boundary lines, determine whether the Republican Party will dominate in the United States Congress and the State Legislature for the next 10 years!

Hopson said further, "Here in Romulus we must reaffirm our confidence in Governor William Milliken's leadership and unite against the phoney liberalism of Senator Hart. Candidates with outstanding leadership qualities must be elected to the state senate and state house. And party volunteers on the precinct and block level are needed for such election

"If this is not done, the State of Michigan will find itself with the problems of Democratic Party domination--deficit spending, increased inflation, and more taxation," Hopson added.

If you want to help the Republican Party cause call Ron Hopson at 941-9509, or write him at 12120 Schultz.

ROMULUS—The Romulus Junior High School Band traveled to Monroe, Saturday, March 14, to participate in the annual Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Festival.

Radar Patroled

SUMPTER—Radar is now being used by Sumpter Township Police Department in traffic enforcement, Sgt. Jerry Cox, announced.

"Radar Patroled" signs have been erected in 15 different entrance points throughout the township on the more heavily used roads to inform the public of the township's new traffic law enforcement program.

In commenting on the use of radar, Sgt. Cox said:

"It is not our intent nor desire to create a speed trap but rather to reduce the number of serious and many times deadly traffic accidents. Any monies saved would be considered a premium and would be used to increase the law enforcement efforts throughout the township. We have posted "Radar Patroled" signs in 15 different entrance points throughout the township in an effort to inform the public of our intent."

"If we prevent one personal injury or fatal accident, then we have made a good investment," Cox added.

Hearing Delayed

City Employees Seek Pay Hike

BELLEVILLE—A scheduled meeting on requests for pay raises made by city employees has been delayed until full membership of city council can be available to attend, Mayor Royce E. Smith announced Monday.

The meeting was to be held at city hall March 23.

The absence of Councilman Ellis Amerman who is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, for treatment of back injury prompted the postponement.

City employees are seeking across-the-board pay hikes amounting to $1,000 a year.

At last council hearing, March 16, five of the seven employees appeared before the City Council. They cited poor salaries in comparison with adjacent communities.

Sergeant Clayton (Mickey) McLaughlin, spokesman for the city employees, told the council that the top police officer's pay in Belleville is $7,400 a year. This compares with $9,570 for a beginning patrolman in Wayne, $9,000 a year for a beginning Wayne County Sheriff's deputy, and $8,007 in Ypsilanti for starting policemen.

He added that Belleville policemen also want a uniform allowance of $300 a year instead of the present $100 and increased coverage under Blue Cross.

After pointing out the difficulties confronting Belleville police officers, such lack of a back-up personnel in case of emergencies and the lack of additional patrol cars, that police officers in other communities do not have, the council felt that the demands were justified and scheduled the March 23 meeting.

Meanwhile Sgt. McLaughlin was instructed to draw up a list of his demands and comparisons by City Attorney B. Ward Smith for use at the next meeting.

Referendum Vote Is Under Study

ROMULUS—Further action of petitions seeking a referendum vote on Romulus' new zoning Ordinance approved Feb. 26 awaits study and legal action by the township attorney John E. Young, Township Clerk Alfred J. Perry reported Monday.

The ordinance went into effect upon its publication March 18.

The petitions, containing 1,449 signatures of property owners assessed in the township, were filed by a group of residents that are protesting a mobile home park classification given to an area near their homes by the new zoning laws.

They are objecting to zoning for a mobile home park in the vicinity of Van Born and Middlebelt Rds.

LIFE HEALTH

Nerve Deafness

Hearing is one of the keenest senses of humans, and is one which is most sensitive to the multitude of pressures of the modern world.

Extreme noises, assorted disease and nerve pressures — singly or in groups — can combine to affect the hearing mechanism, and deafness follows.

One of the most common forms is "nerve deafness". It results when the auditory nerve from the brain to the ear is obstructed by abnormal pressure — generally an impingement in the spine. No artificial drum or application of any kind can overcome nerve deafness.

The chiropractor, through his knowledge of the spinal column and the body's nervous system, is able to make competent, skilled adjustments, which remove the pressures from the delicate nerve system so nature's healing energy can work from within to restore glowing, radiant health. Former Addict Talks

Robert Moorman, a former drug dependent for six years and a former associate of Dr. Timothy Leary, will describe his experiences with drugs at a Hillsdale College Leadership Workshop assembly at 8:00 p.m., March 23, in Phillips Auditorium on the Hillsdale campus.

Moorman's appearance will culminate a number of drug discussions earlier in the day, according to Andrew Nickle, Leadership Workshop chairman. Hillsdale College students will be given seating priority at the 8:00 p.m. event.

Moorman began using drugs in 1961 as a new student at Harvard University. Soon leaving Harvard, he experimented with a number of drugs for varying lengths of time during the next six years.

His drug years included extensive use of marijuana, eight months' addiction to morphine and heroine, four years' usage of LSD, mescaline and amphetamines, and limited use of solvents, glues, romalor, barbiturates and assorted pills.

Moorman's drug career was ended in 1966 when his arrest in Tampa, Florida for grand larceny and narcotic possession resulted in a 14-month sentence and "withdrawal" in Florida State Prison.

Since his "most painful and agonizing" rehabilitation from drugs two years ago, Moorman has been on a speaking tour at prep schools, high schools, colleges and universities across the country.

TB Tests

WASHINGTON, D.C.--Tuberculin skin tests and chest x-rays were arranged for 14,000 U.S. legislators and congressional workers in a massive two-week screening program for tuberculosis, following the occurrence of eight active cases of TB, of which two were fatal, among Capitol Hill employees.

A corps of 75 doctors, nurses, laboratory technicians and clerks operated testing units on both House and Senate sides of the Capitol grounds.

The project was a cooperative venture of the National Communicable Disease Center, the Washington area tuberculosis and respiratory disease associations.

Consolidation Hearing Set

BELLEVILLE—A meeting with officials of the State Boundary Commissions on a Van Buren Township petition seeking a consolidation of Van Buren Township and Belleville will be held April 15, Edward C. Stoelton, township supervisor, announced.

Invited to participate in the discussions planned for the meeting are Mayor Royce E. Smith of Belleville, Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce officials and members of the township's Industrial Development Commission.

Expected to be made soon and probably at the April 15 meeting, is a decision by the State Boundaries Commission on results of a population census taken by the Van Buren Township in its petition for City Incorporation.

The census was completed March 11 and the results sent to the commission.

Taking of the census was a mandatory requisite of the state agency prior to ruling on petitions for City Incorporation.

Van Buren Township has an area of 36 square miles.

The state statute requires 500 residents per square mile, but in the township's case (it was reported,) other factors such as Belleville Lake have to be considered.

The petition for consolidation of Belleville and Van Buren was filed some months ago.

WILSON, N.C., TIMES: "Penalties for drug offenses are too light. They are light in England and in America. If this were not true there wouldn't be the increase in drug addiction which is now taking place. It is difficult to believe that there are parents who are not concerned. It is time for all to become concerned, and the first who should feel the full extent of the law are the pushers, the ones who sell and encourage the use of drugs."

ROMULUS—Boy Scout Troop 739, under the direction of Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline, took its second five mile hike of the year to Flat Rock.

The occasion of this hike was in celebration of the advancement and the investiture of the New Scouts acquired at the Troop's Court of Honor ceremony held on Monday (March 2).

The troop had 100 percent attendance for this outing held March 7. Those present were: Patrol Leader Dana Johnson, Assistant Patrol Leader Harvey Millar, Scouts Paul A. Foltz, David Harmon, Douglas Cooper, Michael McCallum, and Gerald McDiarmid.

The basic theme that was practiced was the setting up of camp and fire making.

It was brought to the attention of the scouts, parents, and the troop committee that Scoutmaster Kline had acquired a new Assistant Scoutmaster Larry Cooper.

Cooper is a novice to scouting activity, but feels that if others could help then it is his duty and obligation to do likewise. Troop 739 welcomed Larry Cooper into their ranks and hearts for this unselfish attitude that he has taken into helping boys, and the Troop. Cooper will undertake an intensive training course under the direction of Scoutmaster Kline.

Once again Scoutmaster Kline announces that Troop 739 is open for the admission of new boys into the troop. All those interested in learning more about scouting, and about Troop 739 please call 941-5677.

Kline invites the parents and the boys to come to the meetings to see if their boys should belong.

The meetings are held on Monday evenings at 7:30 p.m., at Harrison Elementary School, located on Harrison Street off of Eureka Rd.

Huron High Mechanics Join 'Car Trouble' Test

NEW BOSTON—Auto mechanic students from schools across the country—including a team from Huron High School—are entering the 22nd annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, William D. Miller, principal of Huron High School, announced Monday.

All 20 students in Huron High School's auto mechanics class are eligible for their school's Trouble Shooting team.

Two auto mechanic students will be selected for the team through intraclass competition by Dennis L. Jacobson the auto shop instructor, to represent Huron High School at the local Trouble Shooting Contest to be held May 15, 1970 at Wonderland Shopping Center.

The contest consists of two competitions: a written exam for each participating student which will count as 30 percent of a team's final score, and a mechanical challenge worth 70 percent.

In the mechanical competition, students work on new cars supplied by local Plymouth dealers who sponsor the event. The boys race the clock and each other to find and fix several identical malfunctions.

Contestants are competing for more than $125,000 worth of scholarships and awards.

Purpose of the Plymouth Trouble Shooting program is to recognize and honor outstanding auto mechanic students and to encourage them to seek a rewarding career as an automobile mechanic.

The Detroit contest is one of about 100 local events being held across the country this spring.

State Champ Tops All-Area Mat Team

What does a state high school wrestling champ want to do after completion of high school? Well, in the case of Garden City West's Rick Stewart the answer is, "Go to college and become a wrestling coach."

Stewart, the first state champ in the six-year history of West High, was among three wrestlers who were unanimous selections to the 1970 Associated Newspapers' All-Area team.

The other two: Wayne Memorial's Gary Root and John Glenn's Laymon McLilley placed second and third, respectively, in state competition this season.

Also named to the mythical team are Rick Brooker, Wayne Memorial; Bruce Geier, Livonia Franklin; Ken Jones, John Glenn; Charlie Young, John Glenn; Pete Londeau, Wayne Memorial; Russell Reaume, Romulus; Rick Phelps, Belleville; Tom Nelson, Wayne Memorial; and Essa Sackllah, Garden City West.

Stewart, West's co-captain, fills in the 115-pound class berth where he claimed district, regional and state titles this season.

A versatile grappler who has earned All-Area recognition as a soph and junior, Rick has compiled an awesome 39-1 overall record this year and has a three year total of 81-13-1.

Winner of the Adrian, Garden City East, Lansing, Henry Ford Community College and N. Farmington Invitationals, Stewart also holds nine school records.

His most exciting victories, he confesses, were in the state finals which led him to become the first state champ in the history of his school.

Root, an 18-year-old senior, also is a familiar name to All-Area. The Wayne grappler has earned the honor last year and is back in the lineup as a 155-pounder.

Winning a silver medal in the state, Root also has gold medals from his efforts in the district, regional, and league as well as the HFCC, Glenn and Saginaw invitationals.

This year, the Wayne senior accumulated a total of 35 victories in 38 trips. His career record stands at 72-27.

Making his debut on this year's honor roll, McLilley brings impressive credentials including a third place in the state at the 145-pound weight class.

A junior who'll surely be tougher next season, McLilley chalked up 32 victories while losing seven. He finished in a draw in another contest.

Fourth in the regionals,

McLilley proved to be even tougher in state competition where he earned a bronze medal. He also finished first in the district and the Northwest Suburban Conference.

McLilley has medals from his performances in the Western Wayne Quad (First Place); Adrian (second); Redford Union and East Invitationals, where he finished third.

Brooker, a diminutive 98-pounder, is powerful and rugged when he is confronted by his rivals on the mats. He proved to be one of Wayne's top point getters, winning 23 of his 27 matches this season.

Geier is also a holdover from last year's squad and is the only representative of a strong Livonia Franklin aggregation.

Geier was selected by the coaches to fill in the 107 weight class. Jones is another Glenn grappler who earned a district title and helped his teammates finish a close second to Wayne at the meet.

A 123-pound selection, Jones climaxed his prep career with an outstanding 28-7-1 overall record. He also claimed top honors at the Adrian and Western Wayne Invitational, finishing third at Redford Union and in the league.

Wayne's 137-pound candidate, Londeau wound up with the district title and piled up 22 victories in 27 (Continued on 2nd Sports)

Stephens compiled a total of 27 triumphs in 32 contests.

You don't argue with the facts—you do, however, select a Second Team. And named to the team are the following: 95-Jose Garcia (Belleville); 107-Jim Tinsley (Wayne Memorial); 115-Greg Stephens (Romulus); 123-Mike Bonnici (Belleville); 130-Jim Bonsall (Wayne Memorial).

Also named to the second team are: 137-Jerry Faye (Belleville); 145-Bob Mercado (Wayne Memorial); 155-John Arrington (Romulus); 165-Randy Claborn (Wayne Memorial); 175-Victor Ogletree (Belleville); 185-Gary Lyman (Garden City East); and Sam Leo, heavyweight-John Glenn.

Or, John Arrington, a 155-pounder who finished the year with a 27-9 over-all record which included gold medals from his performances in the Western Wayne Invitational and the Twin Valley Conference?

Haney Picked As 'Coach of the Year'

It isn't often that a first season wrestling coach comes along and winds up as the Associated Newspapers' "Coach of the Year."

But Wayne Memorial's Don Haney is an exception.

Though Haney has been coaching at Wayne on-and-off as an assistant for nearly a decade, he stepped in this season when former coach Ray Rafford bowed out last year and as head coach, has accomplished the almost impossible.

In his first year, Haney guided the Zebras to a 12-1 dual meet record and the district championship. For his achievement, the Associated Newspapers are honored to select the "rookie" Wayne mentor as the wrestling Coach of the Year.

"A lot of the credit for our success must go to Abe Chamie, my assistant," says coach Haney. "He's done a tremendous job for us and without him, we would have been in serious trouble."

Haney figured in pre-season calculations that if his team had finished with a .500 or better season, it would have been a good one for him.

Of course, the Zebras did much better. Not only did they surprise their new coach with a 12-1 overall mark, but they also finished second in the tough Sauk Trail Conference and went on to bring home the district trophy.

One of Haney's proteges, Gary Root, not only won the league, district and regional titles, but placed second in the state, finishing his prep career with a 35-3 overall record.

Haney, 36, prepped in Cononburg, Pa., where he went undefeated in wrestling in dual meet competition. He also won the state championship the final two years of his high school career.

A Big Ten and National AAU champ, Haney was graduated from the University of Michigan where he lost only one dual meet match.

After starting the wrestling program at Wayne High 11 years ago, Don dropped out of coaching for a few years. He came back when Rafford decided to become principal at Nankin Junior High School last September.

Needless to say, Wayne is happy to have him back.

He urges dog owners who have not done so to get their pets licensed and vaccinated. And if any resident knows of someone who permits their dogs to run at large or requests them to be tied up or call police and the police department will see that the dog is properly licensed and tied.

Hey, It's All Over

Though some may argue the point, in this corner, at least, we feel that Pershing High head cage coach Will Robinson and his Doughboys owe Garden City West cagers and Chris Babler a huge "thank you".

It's doubtful that Pershing would have knocked off the top-ranked Class A team, Pontiac Central, Saturday night, if West and 6-7 center Rick Drewitz hadn't worn the "Super Chiefs" down in the semi-finals.

Pontiac needed a second half rally to get by West 84-79, spending most of the night at Jenison Fieldhouse in East Lansing trying to catch up to Babler's quintet.

Though the Chiefs finally made it in the waning minutes of the game, it cost them most of their poise.

Pershing, meanwhile, had a relatively easy time with semi-finalist, Midland. When the Doughboys clashed with Pontiac Saturday, there was no one-and I mean no one—except Robinson and his followers—who thought the Doughboys had a chance.

After parachuting from the press box high in the rafters at Michigan State University to the sidelines, we were able to squeeze in between Ralph Simpson, MSU cage sensation, who is also a former Robinson protege, and MSU coach, Gus Ganakas.

Simpson was playing host to Spartan recruits and coach Ganakas was looking over the field for possible candidates.

Simpson kept urging his coach during the Pontiac-West game, "to sign up that Drewitz fellow".

"Coach, sign him up, sign him up. He's got Campy talking to himself out there," pleaded Simpson.

Campy, of course, is 6-7 Pontiac junior Campanella Russell, who is considered one of the finest Class A players to come along since Simpson.

But Drewitz, with his cool and steady play, and his 42 points which nearly shattered Simpson's tournament record of 43, actually stole the show.

The Swami Is Next Mayor of Pontiac

There was one political reason why I wanted Pontiac to win its battle with West. A "Swami" from one of the Metro newspapers stated that: "What chance has West? (To beat Pontiac). "What chance has the Swami of being elected mayor of Pontiac?... None."

'Award of Merit' Given Two

BELLEVILLE—Two United Air Lines employees at Detroit Metropolitan Airport have received United's coveted "Award of Merit" at the company's annual awards banquet in Pittsburgh.

John P. Elliott, of 161 Spencer, Belleville, received the award for his efforts which prevented a serious damage to an aircraft. He was able to stop an unmanned rolling plane before it struck a truck and ground power unit.

Walter E. Traskos, of 221 Montague, Belleville, received the award for his continuing efforts in securing maximum load volumes from freight forwarders, enabling United to continue to maintain the highest volume of boarded express.

medallion and a cash bonus is given to employees whose efforts extend beyond their normal job responsibility.

Just think Chris, if your boys had won, the Swami could have wound up as the Mayor of Pontiac. And we just couldn't wish that on anyone!

(And, did you notice that Swami didn't publish his final average for the tourney... wonder why?)

The Family Circle

'Gotta thank West's Booster Club for the lift to Jackson for the quarterfinals. It was really a pleasure trip.

The Lewis family also can thank Pershing, however, for saving it from making what could have been an embarrassing decision.

George Lewis, who is athletic director at Fordson High School, has a son, Kirk, playing on Garden City High's basketball team.

On the way back from Jackson Parkside after West's victory over Benton Harbor, one of the parents asked: "Wonder who George would root for if West had to play Fordson in the semi-finals?"

"For Fordson, of course," answered another fan.

"No, for his son and West," replied another. "After all, blood is stronger."

Pershing settled the issue, of course, by beating Fordson in the quarterfinals.

But that's a very good question, George. Who would you have rooted for if West played Fordson?

Refunds

DETROIT--A total of 16,994 Michigan area taxpayers waiting for refund checks are instead getting their Federal income tax returns back because they failed to sign them.

An income tax return is a legal document and to be valid must be signed before the Internal Revenue Service can process it and issue a refund, Thomas A. Cardozo, district director of Internal Revenue for Michigan, said. Signatures of both husband and wife are required on joint returns, he added.

trips. Teammate Nelson, given the nod in the 185-pound class, won 19 in dropping 11 matches.

Young, a junior, has made his appearance in the state meet after finishing fourth at the regionals in the 130-pound class. The Glenn grappler matured quickly and managed to carve out a 13-7-3 over-all record which included a gold medal at the district and a third place at the league meet.

Belleville, which won its first Suburban Six Conference title, is represented on the first team with its 175-pounder, Rick Phelps.

Phelps, also a junior who has won the conference crown, placed second in the district and third in the regionals, winning two and losing two matches on the state level.

In the league meet, Rick pinned all three of his opponents in 42 seconds, 1.33 and 1.37.

Romulus' senior matman, Reaume, also can show off several gold medals for his 28-4 over-all record. The 165-pounder was first at the district tourney as well as the East, Western Wayne, Ann Arbor and Chelsea Invationals.

He was runnerup at the HFCC meet.

Shattering the national record for most pins in one season, Essa Sackllah, West's senior heavyweight rounds out this year's selections.

With a total of 60 pins, Essa notched 72 victories, losing 27 and drew once in a span of three seasons. He also earned a gold medal in the district, finishing third in the regionals in 1968 and fourth in 1970.

This year, Sackllah ended up 12th in the state.

The team's co-captain, Essa holds four school records and has gold medals from his performances at the Garden City East and Adrian Invationals.

Also college bound, Essa is preparing for a coaching career.

Huron Schedules Millage Election

NEW BOSTON—The Huron Township Board of Education has set April 6 for a special millage election.

The three mill levy would realize $74,138 for the district's operational purposes. Huron's state equalized valuation is presently $24,712,665.

Voters will be asked to approve a three-mill renewal that expired with the collection of the 1969 school taxes.

School officials urged a favorable vote pointing out that voter approval at this time is essential to maintain the school district's present program and will allow for the most effective planning for the future.

School Superintendent Byron Anticiff, reported that if the three mills request is not approved, the district would lose approximately $70,000 in additional state funds besides the local revenue.

Water is actually lighter as a liquid than as a solid for if ice were heavier it would sink to the bottom of a lake or river.

Want To Improve Your Chances of Avoiding HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS?

Here's Reese Lamb, Michigan's Truck Driver of the Year, with a two-word clue for you to help you avoid those costly highway accidents...

DEFENSIVE DRIVING

... that's how Reese and the other professional truck drivers travel thousands of miles year in and year out accident-free on highways which each year continue to claim more lives and injure more and more people.

WHAT IS DEFENSIVE DRIVING?

Just what it says -- driving alertly and always prepared to defend yourself from becoming involved in mishaps with other motorists whose sudden and erratic actions often involve the unprepared defenseless driver.

Reese advises every driver to learn all he can about the art of Defensive Driving. He and most other professional drivers credit Defensive Driving for accident-free records of well over a million miles.

And you, as well as almost any driver, could become a "million-mile" without any accidents if you'll learn and practice Defensive Driving everytime you take to the road.

Reese was named the Michigan Trucking Association's Truck Driver of the Year in January for his outstanding record of over 16 years of commercial driving without an accident. During that time he covered well over a million and a half miles.

He was one of 12 Drivers of the Month competing for the annual Driver of the Year trophy which is the highest honor bestowed on a Michigan driver by the trucking association.

The Driver of the Year program is currently in its 23rd year and during that span fleet truck drivers have reduced their accident frequency rate per million miles from 17.0 to its current record low of 3.23.

The rate for motorists is 26.8 accidents in a million miles of travel. Lamb and his wife and their two teenage sons live in Wayne and he drives for Complete Auto Transit, Inc. out of its Ypsilanti terminal.

Like all pros, Reese swears by DEFENSIVE DRIVING. He knows what it has done for him and he also knows it can make a better and safer driver out of anyone who employs its basic techniques on the highway.

DRIVE DEFENSIVELY. DEFEND YOURSELF AND OTHERS ON THE HIGHWAY FROM DEATH AND DESTRUCTION THAT DOESN'T NEED TO BE. DRIVE DEFENSIVELY!

PCHA Board Considers Record Budget

WAYNE—A record $25 million budget for 1970-71 will be submitted to the Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority at its regular meeting Thursday, March 26. The Board will also be asked to consider a $3 across-the-board increase in daily room service charges in all PCHA hospitals to become effective, if approved, on April 1, 1970.

M.D., Executive Director of PCHA.

some degree just our actual costs."

The operating budget to be presented totals $25,868,430, representing an increase of $2,975,000 over the revised 69-70 budget—a boost of 13 percent.

Meeting last Thursday night at Annapolis Hospital, the PCHA Operating Committee moved unanimously to recommend Board approval of the proposed budget. In addition to the increase in room charges, the committee also recommended boosts in charges for several auxiliary services such as operating rooms, coronary care units, anesthesia and delivery room service.

"Despite the upgrading of over-all charges, PCHA hospitals will continue to be the finest health care bargain in the Detroit Metropolitan area," said Karl S. Klicka,

"The proposed $43 per day rate for semi-private accommodations is far below charges of comparable metropolitan hospitals," emphasized Klicka. "Our studies of 12 area hospitals, all similar to PCHA in basic concept, reveal that some are charging as much as $17 per day more for semi-private rooms."

Questioned about the increase from $50 to $75 for Delivery Room Service, Roger J. Remer, PCHA treasurer, explained that this department historically operates at a deficit level.

"Even with the $25 increase for this service we will continue to lose approximately $300,000 per year in this department," he admitted. "Here, as in several other areas of operation, we are making these rate adjustments to recover to

Asked also about the suggested April 1 date for instituting the new rate schedule, Remer said he felt this absolutely necessary if the Authority is to meet the added financial obligations incurred through recently approved increases in salary and hourly wage schedules, and related commitments.

The revised hourly wage improvements, resolved by the Board in recent labor negotiations, become effective April 1. The new salary schedule will go into effect May 1.

Rising labor costs continue to be a major factor in the increasing charges for health care. Of next year's operating budget, approximately 71 percent of the outlay is directly related to employee costs—wages, salaries, and additional personnel needed to operate PCHA and its four hospital units.

SEMOG Contract Gets State Approval

LANSING — State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth recently described as "vitally important" a $1,150,162 contract between the State Highway Commission and the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMOG).

The contract, approved today by the State Administrative Board, will help finance SEMOG's transportation planning program for the Detroit metropolitan area from March 1, 1970, through June 30, 1974.

$2,385,025, with member governmental units paying $1,234,863 and the state $1,150,162. The federal government will reimburse the state for approximately 75 percent of its share.

"No area of Michigan has greater need for continuing, comprehensive transportation planning than southeastern Michigan," said Stafseth. "This contract, allowing for joint planning by the state and local governments, is therefore vitally important to Metropolitan Detroit."

Heretofore, the Highway Commission has channeled transportation planning money for the area through southeastern Michigan's Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS). Some $2.4 million state and federal highway funds went into the five-year TALUS study, which was completed early this year.

Stafseth noted that federal law requires that any major federal-aid highway project in urban areas must be based on a comprehensive, on-going transportation planning program before it can receive approval by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"We have every confidence that SEMOG can and will do the job of transportation planning for southeastern Michigan," Stafseth said. "We hope that every municipality in the area will participate and cooperate in this program."

Stafseth said the Department of State Highways will assign an engineer to work full time with SEMOG on the program, in addition to lending technical assistance.

The planning program encompasses Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

The program will cost

Delayed Projects Resume This Year

LANSING — The Department of State Highways has resumed work on plans for $20 million in highway projects delayed earlier as part of President Nixon's war on inflation, it was announced today.

The President said last week that he was terminating his request of last September for curtailment of federally assisted state and local construction projects.

State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth said the Department will announce early in April when the delayed projects can be put back into the construction program.

The Department originally planned to take bids on the projects this year, but because of the federal slowdown the start of construction was delayed until after Dec. 31, 1970.

Miss Michigan To Promote Agriculture

The 1970 Farmers' Week youth program at Michigan State University features Miss Michigan, Sandra Gillespie, promoting agricultural careers Wednesday and Thursday (March 25-26).

The Wednesday youth program offers young people an opportunity to learn about careers in agriculture, agribusiness and natural resources.

"Students concerned with pollution, environmental quality, world food problems and many other areas will find up-to-date career information available," says Norman Brown, coordinator of student programs for MSU's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Four-year degree programs and 18-month technical training programs will be explained.

Williams' 'Summer and Smoke' Heats Meadow Brook

By HOWARD ALLEN
Amusement Critic

If the John Fernald Company isn't careful, it's going to fulfill the promise expected of it for four seasons and not always approached. On the heels of their "Hedda Gabler," the Meadow Brook Theatre is currently offering a sensational production of Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke."

"Summer and Smoke" is not exactly Williams' best, but director Terence Kilbren offers a mature and intelligent reading which emphasizes the lyric strain which reflects Williams at his best.

Barbara Caruso establishes her credentials emphatically as the slightly repressed daughter of a forbidding and unyielding minister who seeks her salvation in an affair with a wastrel young doctor, only to end up in an inevitable decline.

The cast is uniformly capable, including Toby Tompkins as the young doctor who matures under his neighbor's influence as she ironically degenerates, Marshall Borden as the stern minister who has driven his wife into an early senility and Audiences may find it especially interesting to compare Williams' earlier and later work. "Summer and Smoke" is before the days where every second character is either a prostitute, a pervert or a cannibal.

Williams injects an occasional theatrical cliché and sometimes borders on melodrama—certainly "Summer and Smoke" is not in the class of, say, "Streetcar Named Desire"—but the Meadow Brook production is certainly a rewarding evening.

One of the most valid marks of a play's credentials is how well it wars and by these standards "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" has very fine credentials indeed. Seen for the fourth time (after earlier looks in New York, San Francisco and at the Fisher) the Peanuts company, at the Vest Pocket, was as fresh and joyful as ever.

Most attempts to bring comic strips to the stage are indifferent at best; the media are so different.

Not so with "Charlie Brown." The unique personalities of Snoopy, making a Busby Berkeley production of dinner or squaring off against the Red Baron; of Lucy, taking a survey to find out how crabby she is, and of course, Charlie Brown himself, the loser to end all losers, are recreated so authentically it becomes impossible to tell which medium was transcribed into which.

The tempo was not always consistent during the mid-week performance which was viewed, with Alan Loftin in the title role particularly suffering from fluctuations in intensity, but Andrea Martin's Lucy and Grant Cowan's Snoopy were unerring interpretations.

Anyone who doesn't like "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," doesn't believe in the Great Pumpkin and would ignore Beethoven's birthday.

"The Dunwich Horror," a modern adaption of a classic chiller, attempts to mix the occult and the monstrous with uneven results. Dean Stockwell is a cultist seeking to turn the world back to its earlier, supernatural rulers, through the medium of a ritual involving Sandra Dee, cast as one of those girls who should have been smarter but never is. Ed Begley rides to the rescue. Basically "Dunwich" tries to satisfy all levels of horror fans, from BEM's to spiritualists, and leaves all unconvinced.

Ustinov's 'Unknown Soldier' Set For Run

Peter Ustinov's "The Unknown Soldier and His Wife," last show to join the Hilberry Theatre's current repertory, will officially open April 8 at 8:30 p.m.

Between the previews and the official opening—Wayne State's spring vacation—the theatre will be dark.

"The Unknown Soldier"

will then continue in the weekly repertory through May.

Ustinov's wry tale of the Unknown Soldier, about to be buried with full honors, turns out to be the same story of the same fall guy throughout all the world's history. The same wife is dragged along, and the same general and the same priest keep turning up in war after war.

The play premiered at Lincoln Center in 1967, later moving to Broadway. In 1968 it opened the season at the Chichester Festival Theatre, England's open stage theatre started by Sir Laurence Olivier for the company that became the National Theatre company.

The Hilberry production features John O'Connell as the General, Woody Eney as the Archbishop, Jeff Rodman as the Soldier and Jo Anne Belanger as the Wife. Other principal roles are played by Arthur Laupus (the Sergeant), Lee Smith (the Rebel), James Newell (the Enemy Leader), John Sterling Arnold (the Bugler) and Claudia Wilkens (the Woman).

"The Unknown Soldier" joins Miller's "After the Fall," Moliere's "The Bourgeois Gentleman," Shakespeare's "Macbeth" and Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac" in the repertory. "After the Fall," the first play to open last fall, will be the first to close, with its final performance scheduled for April 18.

Complete schedule and ticket information is available from the Theatre Box Office in the Hilberry lobby, Cass at Hancock. The telephone number is 577-2972. Tickets also are available at J.L. Hudson's

Rumpelstiltskin Set For Easter

DEARBORN — "Rumpelstiltskin" is on a stamping rampage again! The Greenfield Village Players have things well in hand, however, and the irascible dwarf can only rant and rave across the stage of the Henry Ford Museum Theater.

His flashing lightning and fiery temper have no more effect than to thrill audiences at the Museum's Easter Season presentation of this delightful fairy tale.

Designed to entertain the entire family, Rumpelstiltskin is presented throughout the Easter vacation period starting Saturday, with performances at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. From Sunday through Thursday, showtime will be at 2:30 only. Friday and Saturday there are two shows — at 2:30 and 7:30 — with a final performance on Sunday at 2:30 only. The box office will be open one hour before each performance.

The original cast of seventeen who play 24 characters has only two replacements in minor parts, so the production will appear essentially the same as it did during a most successful Christmas run.

No individual reservations can be accepted, but school

Postal Strike Opinions Fly As Pickets Walk

BY MARILYN PARKER

With the postal strike entering its second week, several governmental representatives and employees have taken a verbal stand on the issue.

Pickets have continued to walk the lines around local post offices, since a ban on picketing ordered in Detroit, does not affect local post offices. Letter carrier sources indicated, however, that a no-picketing ruling was expected.

William D. Ford, Congressman from Michigan's 15th district and member of the House committee on post office and civil service, led the Detroit area congressional delegation Friday in sending a communication to President Nixon calling for immediate action to halt the postal shutdown.

Also signing the communication was Congressman Jack McDonald, (R-19th district).

The strike, which has crippled mail service in the greater Detroit area as well as throughout the nation, has spread to Wayne, Plymouth, Livonia, Inkster, Westland,

Mail Delivery Halts In Western Wayne

Garden City and Inkster.

Other co-signers were representatives James O'Hara of Utica; Lucien Nedzi, Martha Griffiths, Charles Diggs, John Conyers, all of Detroit; John Dingell, Dearborn; and William Brookfield, Royal Oak.

The statement to the President reads:

"The spreading postal stoppage appears on the verge of developing into a national disaster.

"In view of the fact that there are now no lines of communication open between labor and management which could lead to a settlement, we urge you to use your power as chief executive of the United States to immediately take the following steps:

"(1) Appoint a high-level mediation panel composed of citizens recognized as broadly representative of the interests of the public, postal management and the postal employees, and (2) call upon all postal employees to return to work immediately and restore postal service with your assurance that you will give full and prompt consideration to the findings of the mediation panel and will initiate and support all reasonable action to secure immediate implementation of the recommendations of the panel appointed by you."

John F. Lowry, secretary of Wayne Branch 2992, National Association of Letter Carriers, responded to public criticism Saturday in the following statement, on behalf of all carriers:

"On behalf of the officers of Branch 2992 and its members, I would like to apologize for the inconvenience that the postal strike may cause you.

"I work for the richest employer of the richest nation in the world; and yet, a city the size of Wayne pays its Sanitation Engineers (garbage collectors, if I may), a higher salary than the Post Office pays me.

"In May of 1964, I started to work for the Post Office Department and after 21 years of service I will reach the top pay of $8,442.00. The year will be 1985.

"After paying 6 1/2% of my salary for retirement and all the other deductions that come out of my check, I take home $102.11 per week, check dated 02/06/1970.

"This strike is the only way the letter carrier can let the people know how bad the situation is.

"We, the officers of Branch 2992, have tried to keep the members from striking but after a year of waiting for Congress to do something, and then be told a pay raise was inflationary; we could not stop the strike.

"We hope you will support the letter carriers. Let your Congressman know it is time we received a livable wage."

Marvin L. Esch (R-2nd district) in a formal statement Monday outlined two major problems of the postal strike, Esch said:

"There are two major wrongs which have brought us to this sorry impasse: (1) This Congress has been derelict in failing to enact meaningful postal reform and in granting adequate pay for the many thousands of loyal and skilled postal workers; (2) the workers unfortunately are committing an unlawful act in striking."

Esch said congress has failed to provide a modern postal system with an effective grievance and arbitration procedure. He also commented that at the same time the nation is paying postal employees a ridiculously low wage.

"As much as I champion the underlying cause of the postal workers, I cannot approve the methods they are using to achieve worthwhile goals," Esch said. "We cannot condone the breaking of the law."

"In a pattern that has become too common with this Congress, vital legislation has yet to reach the floor of either house," he said.

"We desperately need the modern management updated facilities and work procedures which the president's proposed legislation would provide if the post office is ever to operate effectively," Esch said.

"Under the president's leadership, extensive behind the scenes negotiations were carried on by Secretary George Schultz with postal leaders," Esch said. "Hopefully, in a very short time we will see the beginning of the end to this difficult and unhappy crisis, a crisis brought on by the failure of Congress to act responsibly."

GREETING SENATOR-George Kanable, commander of VFW Post 7575 in Garden City greets U.S. Senator Philip Hart, at the Tri-City legislative dinner last week. The event was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Westland, Wayne and Garden City.

Senator Hart Warns Of Pollution Threat

GARDEN CITY--"Man has the capacity to destroy himself not only with bombs but with his own short-sightedness," U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart warned an audience of more than 300 at Saturday night's Tri-City legislative dinner at the swank new Garrison House.

Sticking rigidly to his prepared text because of a pressing time schedule to catch a plane to Washington, Hart spoke on "priorities."

"The new political issue is priorities--but this describes an old, old problem. Townships 50 to 100 years ago discussed where to spend money, so there's really nothing new about it," Hart declared.

"Old assumptions, however, have gotten us into much of our trouble. We thought our resources were boundless, inexhaustible," he told his audience, which included a host of local, state and county elected officials.

Listening to the veteran legislator from Michigan were elected state officials from Western Wayne County, besides mayor and councilmen of the three cities of Garden City, Wayne and Westland.

Included in the audience were State Senators William Faust and Loraine Beebe, State Reps. Vincent Pettipren, James Tierney and Richard Young.

Also on hand were many citizens who came to talk with their representatives at every level of government.

After being introduced by U.S. Congressman William Ford, Hart read from his prepared text:

"In 1879 we thought nothing could happen to Lake Erie," Hart explained, turning to the problem of priorities concerning pollution.

He continued: "At the turn of the 1900's we began to think seriously about Lake Erie and by 1950, Erie was in trouble.

"Another false assumption we held was that if any threat arose to our freedom, it must arise in a foreign capital.

Russia didn't steal our liberties--but somebody has. Thirty-five per cent of our people are afraid to walk on the street at night," Hart pointed out.

If we have less and less clean water, if a child's mind is diminished by lack of adequate diet--then freedom is lost.

"The last 30 years have seen us stress national defense, economy and conquest of space. If we have overspent on defense, it is not the fault of the generals or the pentagon--it is our fault as legislators," the diminutive Senator said candidly.

He contended that the 20 billion being spent in Vietnam could be put to better use. Then he suggested where the money could better be spent.

"If the war ends, the money could go for education, job training, parks and pollution control. Our liberty is secured, restored and enhanced to the degree we build the quality of life."

Hart implored his listeners to recapture a sense of relationship to all elements of nature and to all creation. He stressed that the protection of every creature is essential if America is to restore the quality of life.

Hart concluded:

"Increasing everything is not always progress. Let's take inventory of ourselves and set new priorities. I hope in 100 years they'll say that we in 1970 turned to quality of progress instead of just quantity of progress!"

The more than 300 persons attending the dinner gave the Senator a standing ovation.

Experience Helps Former Mayor

Have you ever wondered what happens to a mayor after he leaves office. Unlike some, Thomas H. Brown, former mayor of Westland has stayed in the area and is manager of the commercial industrial division of George Smith Realty.

Brown took the newly created position in December. "I looked around for a while after leaving office and decided to work for George Smith," Brown said, "I will be working out of the office located at 2200 S. Wayne Road," he added.

Speaking for George Smith, salesman Guy Renfro said, "We are proud and pleased to have Tom working with us. His knowledge of zoning regulations and industrial dealings will be beneficial to the company in the field in which he is active."

Brown will attempt to bring industries into the Western Wayne County area. "My experience as mayor in the areas of future planning and facilities conducive to attracting industry to the area should be a big help to me in my current position."

Brown served as the first mayor of the city of Westland and also served as supervisor of Nankin Township. He was defeated in his bid for re-election last fall by Westland's current mayor, Eugene McKinney.

Our Hat Is Off To Fighting West

Detroit Pershing may reign as the state champion among Michigan's 174 Class A high school basketball teams, but Garden City West's team is still a champion to everyone in Garden City, and rightfully so.

In this day and age when the world is beset with more problems than you can shake a stick at, Coach Chris Babler's team has provided its followers with plenty of thrills throughout an outstanding season.

This was especially so during the past three weeks of tournament competition, when feeling run exceptionally high as a team survives one challenge after another in quest of the state championship.

West, with one of the nation's outstanding high school basketball players in senior Rick Drewitz, won its first 22 games before losing in last Friday's semifinals at East Lansing.

And while West wasn't conceded much of a chance against Pontiac Central--the state's top rated quintet all season and only other undefeated Class A team going into tournament play--Friday night, it didn't take Drewitz & Co. long to win over the hearts of the 12,548 fans packed into Jenison Fieldhouse.

In fact, a standing ovation--something that's usually hard to come by--was accorded Drewitz as he left the game in the closing minutes.

However, no one was able to convince the West players they didn't belong in East Lansing. That was the real key to success for West in its bid to bring the state championship trophy back to Garden City.

Whatever confidence may have been lacking elsewhere, the West players more than made up for it while posting the finest record in the school's six-year history.

So hats off to the West team--Drewitz, Dennis Leszczynski, Kirk Lewis, Gary Nustad, John Rutter, Jerry Guzowski, Mike Dunn, Mike Kilbourn, Mike Volas, Bob Kobiela, James Whaley, Tom Jones and Russ Graham--and coach Babler for a job well done.

As heavy as your hearts may be now, remember that another 170 Class A team would have given their eye teeth to get that trip to Jenison Fieldhouse. And remember you were one of only 16 teams from the 733 high school in all classes that won their way to East Lansing.

So, hats off to you again. And thanks.

Strike's End Good For What Ails You

The strike is over in Westland, and residents can settle in with at least a few months of harmony at city hall.

The issues involved in the strike weren't financial, really, or about fringe benefits working conditions, either.

Rather, the strike was a perfect case of a new administration and an old, established union ironing the wrinkles out of a working relationship that simply has to be established before Westland can progress.

Nobody likes a strike, of course, but it seems likely that the walkout was something like a strong dose of sulphur and molasses to a city getting ready for spring.

We think there is a good chance that Westland may have been able to get its municipal vehicle running on all eight cylinders by kicking the final kinks out of its labor relations problems.

We're glad the settlement has been reached, and some equity has been accomplished for both city workers and taxpayers. We remember, too, that the best part of a good fight is the making up.

Bald Eagle Speaks

Voters Get Interested

By Bob Ameen

The most important topic on the lips of politically-interested Livonia residents today is the April 6 city election...Generating the most comment and interest is the battle for mayor between incumbent Mayor Moelke and Council President Ed McNamara...Although the mayor has commented the current campaign is the worst he's ever been in, old timers say the present race for mayor doesn't compare with those of a few years ago.

Record turnout of 384 big time spenders at Burton Hollow Civic Association's Reno Roundup (another version of millionaire's party) put all candidate night meeting to shame...Handful of politicians introduced near end of play received only a slight smatter of applause, reflecting mood of players to relax and get away from the political scene.

As this writer has pointed out on more than one occasion, Livonia voters usually are about as apathetic as they come...Except, when a school bus schedule is changed or the topic of sex education in elementary schools is broached...Possibly, these same apathetic voters would become interested if their right to participate in millionaire parties was at stake...

Bond issues and budgets totalling millions of dollars fail to draw voters to council and school board sessions...Possibly, half of the 45,000 registered voters who are expected not to vote in the city election next month merely register for the exercise and fail to fill their democratic right because they have more important things to do.

Yours truly cannot figure out what else could be more important than the future of our city, our state and our nation at election time...Can you?

Victims of oppression and virtual slavery in far off lands have died and are dying for this much-sought-after right of the common man...In this nation of nearly unlimited freedom, that right is abused to the tenth degree...someday, citizens of Livonia, your vote may mean the difference between what you enjoy today and subjugation to dictatorial powers...The choice and opportunity are yours... Don't neglect and forget to vote on April 6!

Recent move by Associated Newspapers to centralize operations in Wayne and close call area offices does not mean the Livonia Eagle has ceased to circulate in the city...Drop-off points have been set up in all nine areas...Livonia's is the new Sentry Drug store at Five Mile and Farmington roads...We plan to still be very much in the thick of things in your community. Yours truly can be reached by telephone at 729-4005 when he is not covering Livonia's news beats, most likely at all hours of day or night.

Around town: Squabble between city and county and owners of right-of-way could delay rewidening and paving of Five Mile Road from Merriman to Eckles...Political bumper stickers and yard signs displayed by city police and fire personnel in defiance of Civil Service regulations...Wagenschultz conspicuous by his absence at candidate night meetings...

Word that some members of Community Task Force on drug abuse failed to show up for a single meeting...Impetus given local Chamber of Commerce since dynamic Stan Telman took over reins...Repeated complaints by senior citizens that they are getting run-around in attempts to move into city's first housing unit for elderly.

Lift Up Your Head

A Scoreless Tie In Westwood

By Rosemary Wolock

The public hearing on charges against Dr. Robert Anderson made by the Westwood Board of Education has turned out to be a disaster with a capital D.

The only conclusion I think everyone would agree on after six sessions of the hearing is that it should never happen again. I hope other area school districts and superintendents will learn a lesson from this fiasco.

Dr. Anderson's contract with the board called for a hearing. Perhaps a hearing before a professional arbitrator or some other third party would have been the answer. Believe me, there's got to be something better than this.

The one thing that everybody seems to have lost sight of is the fact that this hearing is not a trial. The hearing will never show whether Dr. Anderson is innocent or guilty. It will only show whether the board acted capriciously or arbitrarily in seeking to dismiss him.

For Dr. Anderson's sake that is the real shame of this hearing. Other boards of education who are seeking superintendents will not be interested in the outcome of this hearing.

What they will be looking for in a superintendent is a man who, among other things, can get along with a board of education and school administrators, which, if testimony thus far is to be believed, Dr. Anderson could not.

Of course it was Dr. Anderson who requested a public hearing. But I am not certain that the carnival atmosphere at the hearings is benefiting anyone's case.

Unfortunately Dr. Anderson's attorney, H. Rollin Allen, plays to the crowd. He is a deft cross-examiner, but I really wonder if the Perry Mason tactics are necessary.

To his credit, his questioning several times uncovered a lack of knowledge of important specifics, such as dates, times and names, by the board's witnesses. This will certainly weaken their case.

But many times it appeared as though he was merely playing word games in an effort to make the board's witnesses look stupid.

Some members of the audience react to Allen's statements with applause and laughter, but sometimes I fail to get the humor. Last week I heard a woman laugh out loud after Allen said, "No objection."

After sitting in on the hearings for more than 20 hours I only wish I could find something funny about it.

On the other hand, trustee William Spaulding's sometimes-sassy answers have not raised the tenor of the proceedings. Neither has the spectacle of seven laymen trying to act like legal authorities.

Although future testimony might change the outcome, I'd say the score is now Board-0, Anderson-0. Nobody's winning.

History Has No Reasons

By Dick McKnight

Western Wayne County residents got a peculiar spinal sensation watching letter carriers march around local post offices carrying picket signs.

There was tingle of excitement because history was being made, right in the old hometown, and a muted sense of outrage as it began to dawn on most residents that, in fact, there wouldn't be any mail for awhile.

Senator Philip Hart described President Nixon's decision to call up the national guard as an act smacking of a "banana republic." There was partisanship in those words, but the fact remained that a post office strike was the kind of thing that isn't supposed to happen here.

And, to everybody's surprise, there is just about nothing more common to all of us than the post office. Almost no other event could have created such a sense of national oneness, since scarcely anyone was spared.

What other national news story could allow you to hear bulletins about it every few minutes on the broadcast media and then walk down the street and see it happening. That's probably what had President Nixon so worried.

One of the reasons why the postal office strike should be less a surprise today, is the fact that postal workers are, in fact, underpaid. Inflation in recent months has widened the gap between letter carriers and workers in industry, and made the letter carriers' ire grow heated.

In the meantime, the carriers are employed by the U.S. government, an organization that has grown mighty by delaying nearly every needed reform until the last moment.

Congress, which must approve any postal pay hike, is notorious for being like the proverbial donkey-- you have to hit him over the head to get his attention.

Of course, the people who suffer most by a mail strike are the citizens themselves. The letter carriers hope to make the people feel the pinch, and let the people pinch the Congress. Unfortunately, the public is more likely to pinch the letter carriers right back.

There is always a danger that the postal strike is a Pandora's box, which, once opened, will lead to more and more serious strikes like those experienced in France in 1968. Those strikes, we recall, actually brought down the Gaullist government.

If my child was a little older I'd take him out and let him see how history is made. I suppose he has to learn some time how unreasonable reasonable men can be.

Monsoon Season In Hines Park

Viewpoint

Many local service clubs are planning to devote much effort toward the growing problem of drug abuse in the suburbs. Drug abuse was once a subject that was only brought up when one spoke of the inner-city ghetto. Nowadays, the kid next door might have a dresser full of pills, marijuana and whatever. The drug problem has grown to be one of major concern right in our own neighborhoods and people are finally becoming concerned.

Working on the drug problem is certainly admirable. We have, however, waited too long to begin. Because our kids weren't involved, we didn't worry about it. Now that it has hit closer to home we suddenly have become vitally concerned. Perhaps we are too late.

Drugs are a fad with our young people. They think they are "in" when they blow grass and pop pills. They don't care about the consequences because their friends don't care about the consequences. The problem has spread because we let it get out of hand. We didn't worry about drugs until it grew into a major problem involving our own children."

"Everybody's out of step but my Jimmy."

Jimmy has now joined in step with everyone else and concerned adults are wondering how such a problem got started, how their children became mixed up in such a mess, and what they can do about it.

We asked for the drug problem because we didn't show concern before. We figured that the inner-city problem stemmed from a lack of activity and overwhelming poverty. If such is the case, why did drugs become so popular in the supposedly affluent suburbs.

Kids in junior high schools blow grass, and like it. High school kids shoot heroin for kicks, pushers have contacts in almost every area school. The drug market has moved into our society and we are now faced with the job of cleaning it up. If we don't our way of life may be changed and the ever popular middle class suburban family may cease to exist.

Who can we blame?

The blame rests only on ourselves. We were too late with the drug education programs. We were too late in beginning to clean up the schools. We were too late in our concern over pushers in the high schools. We didn't worry about the drug problem until it got bigger than we were. Now we have to clean it up and we are the only ones to blame.

Now that the problem is here and is of major concern to all, it is time to get down to work. A community wide effort is necessary in order to clean up the mess. It is the job of all citizens to put an end to drugs. Police departments and service clubs are not enough. If the drug problem is to be controlled, every citizen must do his part.

Oriental Rugs Add Elegance

THIS INVITING SETTING—elegant, yet cozy—is highlighted by a curving sectional sofa covered in Naugahyde vinyl by Uniroyal, Inc. Room was created by Charlotte Smith and Ving Smith, AID, for Uniroyal as part of the new "America at Home—1970" program on display at the American Furniture Mart in Chicago.

Complete your room decor, while adding a touch of elegance, with an Oriental rug.

Contrary to popular thinking, Oriental rugs need not be used only with formal furnishings. The carefully chosen Oriental can blend with any style decor, from Early American to modern to period furnishings.

The look of elegance created with an Oriental can also be had at a modest price. Many domestic Orientals are available today and duplicate the same fine looks found in the imported rugs.

Also...you need not go to the expense of a room-sized rug to create the impression of opulence. Oriental runners, area-sized rugs and scatter rugs can be very effective in almost any room of the house.

Although there are many types of Oriental rugs, the principal ones are Persian (characterized by rich color, realistic designs—especially leaf and floral patterns—medallions, hexagons, some figures and animals).

To Orientals, colors have great significance aside from their aesthetic value. When selecting an Oriental rug, keep in mind the meanings behind the colors:

Careful Planning Makes Home Inviting

Why is it some homes look inviting and comfortable no matter how frenzied the activities or large the family and numerous the guests? While others look cluttered and foreboding when the activity and number of users is at the very minimum? The size of the home and layout of the rooms need not necessarily be the answer.

Thoughtful room planning and skillful decorating can do much to make a home inviting—no matter what its size.

Before decorating any room, you should carefully think about its users and the activities that will take place in the room. You then can plan the decorating scheme and furniture placement on this basis.

First, find the center of interest for each room and then arrange the furnishings accordingly. Once you have found the placement for the large pieces of furniture, find locations for the smaller items.

After you have placed the furnishings, review the room for balance of the various elements. Don't have all the large and heavy pieces on one wall. Don't cluster all the large pieces around the center of interest.

Be sure, too, that you allow for movement and traffic, so that the room will not appear cluttered when in use.

Make certain that the lighting is also well-balanced. Review the locations of lamps and their uses. Study and close work areas must have good lighting. Keep the soft, subdued lighting for visiting sections.

Most importantly, be sure that the furniture fits the intended function of the room, i.e., see that chairs and other seating pieces are comfortable in rooms meant for relaxing; lighting and preparation space is adequate in rooms meant for working.

Urge To Decorate Young, Old Alike

CHICAGO—In practically every standard house or apartment lease, there's a fine type paragraph that forbids tenants to attach or hang anything on the walls. And in practically every rental transaction, that particular clause is quietly ignored by both tenant and landlord.

So predominant is the practice of garnishing walls, in fact, that modern college dormitory rooms are often planned to permit and even encourage it, according to Mary Ann Wills, decorating consultant for Arabesque, Traverse City, Mich., wall accessories manufacturer.

Today's collegians, like those before them, still delight in hanging posters, pennants, souvenirs, and signs snatched from favorite eateries or even roadsides. For the span of a school year, they make great conversation pieces. And in summer, they provide ample work for painters.

Once out of school, most young adults gradually develop a taste for wall decor that is more significant in terms of artistic value and lasting interest. But they still prefer items that rate high as conversation pieces, rejecting anything they consider mundane or perhaps corny. "At any age, individual taste is what should dictate one's choice in wall accessories—for that matter, in all accessories for the home," Miss Wills declared.

The enormous variety of individual likes and dislikes among people of all ages is what guides the Arabesque designers in developing new ideas for all kinds of wall decor, to be created by woodcarvers and sculptors and then reproduced in simulated wood or other materials.

Caloric Cost Of Living

Just breathing, sleeping and eating represent a 1500 to 1600 daily calories expenditure for men (1000 to 1200 for women). The current, revised daily recommended dietary allowances for calories is set at 2800 for the 22-year-old man (2000 for his feminine counterpart). This leaves a range of 800 to 1200 calories to spend in a variety of daily activities. The problem of obesity as well as the radical decline in physical activity common to today's society were considered when current revised allowances were established by the Food and Nutrition Board, National Academy of Sciences—National Research Council.

PUSHOVER

The little tugboat's ability to push a big ocean liner around has always been a subject of fascination.

But it is all really quite simple. The tugboat is custom built for its assignment. It has the power to do a big job. It is operated by a skipper who is highly skilled. The largest liner is a pushover for this combination.

The mighty little tug has its counterpart in advertising--the newspaper Want Ad.

The Want Ad's diminutive size is a deceptive cover-up for its surprising power. Imagine a simple three or four line advertisement, which costs less than dinner in a good restaurant, motivating from twenty to thirty people to respond. It happens all the time!

An Associated Want Ad can play the part of a problem solver for you. It will sell a valuable but unneeded article, find you a job, find you a needed employee, find you a place to live, or serve you in countless other ways. Want Ads have even been used to sell tugboats!

It won't be long until an occasion will arise when you can profitably use a Want Ad. When that time comes, pick up your phone and dial 729-3300. A friendly Ad-Visor will help you word your ad for quick response.
